COUNCIL SOLVES STREET PROBLEM

Third Street to be Raised to Connect With Lookout
Avenue

LOOKOUT HUMP WILL BE CUT

Providing for an elevation of Third street at Lookout avenue, for reduction in the grade of Lookout where it enters into Third, for cutting off the Lookout avenue hump on the knoll south of Third, and Wednesday night attempted solution of what promised to be a difficult street improvement problem. This will do away with the present necessity of constructing a ledge from Lookout avenue to the level of the two Third streets.

Councilman W. R. Gaut made a statement to council and the property owners and citizens present at the meeting, insisting that council and not a borough engineer be held responsible for the engineering errors of Third street. He suggested that the street that could be done now would be to compromise the grades of both Lookout avenue and Third street on that seems the best arrangement.

By the proposed scheme Lookout avenue will be connected with the existing, or lower of the two Third streets. It will have a grade leading to Third street similar to that it possessed previous to the beginning of the Third street improvement. Third street will be raised through the knoll about three feet. This will increase the grade from 11 to 12 percent from Lincoln avenue to Lookout and leave the grade at 11 percent from Lookout to Crest avenue. The higher of descending Third street has a varying grade, ranging from 20 down to 5 per cent between Lincoln avenue and Crest.

At the meeting President D. R. Duval was in the chair and every member of council was present. Remarks were made by other councilmen and Mr. Gaut, and one or two property owners spoke, stating that in their opinion the Lookout avenue change would be acceptable. So the change will be made.

THREE-YEAR-OLD GIRL KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Evelyn Maitland, of Washington

Crossing Street and is Run Down—
Dies While in Doctor's Office.

Evelyn Maitland, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maitland was almost instantly killed at the corner of Jefferson and Tyler avenues, Washington about 5:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when she was struck by the automobile driven by Robert E. Wallace, of Oak Grove. Several physicians were called and everything possible was done to save her life. She was not bruised or crushed for the wheels of the car did not pass over her. It is believed the force of the fall on the street ended her life.

The accident was sad but entirely avoidable.

LOCAL SUFFRAGISTS TO CONDUCT HARD CAMPAIGN

Charleroi Enthusiasts Preparing for Observance of Dollar Day Tomorrow—Eager Work Carried on.

Local suffragists are today making active preparations for the observance tomorrow of "State Dollar Day". The campaign will be conducted with headquarters from the office of the Mail, and a committee from the local suffrage league will be in charge.

The idea of the "State Suffrage Day" is to raise funds by contributions of $1 or more to the extent possible throughout the state. The funds thus obtained will be used in conducting the full campaign for votes.

Locally there will be an active campaign conducted by the suffragists. Many members have also been enrolled, and numerous votes for woman suffrage have been promised in Charleroi. The general belief here is that the fight will be a hard one.

WILL ENFORCE MATTRESS LAW

State Commissioner of Labor and Industry Organizes Active Campaign

RE-SALE IS NOT PERMITTED

An extended campaign to prevent the spread of infectious and contagious diseases from the sale of contaminated mattresses is to be instituted in all sections of Pennsylvania by inspectors of the State Department of Labor and Industry.

Labor Commissioner John Price Jackson has issued instructions to the corps of inspectors to enforce rigidly in factories, cleaning establishments, wholesale and retail stores, the provisions of the acts of legislation that place under the jurisdiction of the Department of Labor and Industry the manufacture and renovation, sale or re-sale of all mattresses.

Complaints have been received that manufacturers in various parts of the state are using in the manufacture of cheaper grade mattresses, material which has not been sterilized and other material that is specifically forbidden.

Further complaints specify that large numbers of mattresses, improperly made and not bearing labels, as required by law, are being shipped into the state and offered for sale by Pennsylvania dealers. It is pointed out by Commissioner Jackson that dealers, who offer such mattresses for sale are violators of the law and are subject to prosecution.

The sweeping character of the mattress act of 1913 and the enlargement of its scope by an amendment passed by the last legislature virtually prohibits the sale of any mattress that is not manufactured of approved material, thoroughly sterilized and disinfected and properly labeled.

A re-sale of a mattress that has been used by a person having any infectious or contagious disease is forbidden and a re-sale of any mattress

ONE MAN KILLED IN SHOOTING AFFAIR AT MONESSEN TODAY

Gaspiero Bruno, a youth of 21 years was shot to death in a fight in the heart of the business district at Monessen this morning at 9:30 o'clock. His alleged assailant, Pietro Tammurello, aged about 27 years, made his escape by dashing over the Sixth street hill through the Monessen residential district to the home of a friend or to the rural sections where he remains in hiding. Borough and state police and county officers are trying to run him down.

Bruno was a millworker. He lived with his parents on an alley between Schoonmaker and Donner avenues, between Fifth and Sixth streets. The family is well known.

Tammurello roomed and boarded with the Bruno family. The story is told that young Bruno this morning did not go to work on account of illness. Tammurello wished to shave so took the liberty of walking into Bruno's room to do it. Bruno was rather annoyed at this, feeling that when ill he should be left alone.

Hasty words were passed between the two. Their quarrel led them into the alley to fight. Almost as soon as they arrived there it is stated Tammurello drew a revolver from his pocket and fired. The bullet struck Bruno in the back. He fell and Tammurello fled, unpursued.

Bruno's mother heard the shot, as did several others in the vicinity. She ran to her son's side and carried him into the house. He was removed to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, but died almost at the time of arrival there.

Tammurello struck over the Sixth street hill from Schoonmaker avenue. On Schoonmaker he ran plump into a grocery wagon and narrowly escaped injury. However he managed to get away. The police were not notified immediately and when they did get on the trail Tammurello had disappeared as though by magic. He is a man about 5 feet 4 inches tall, having a dark complexion and small mustache. He wore a blue suit and a brown hat. In Monessen he is not well known having come there recently from points unknown. The Bruno family is well known. He is a man about 5 feet 4 inches tall, having a dark complexion and small mustache. He wore a blue suit and a brown hat. In Monessen he is not well known having come there recently from points unknown. The Bruno family is well known.

The father of the dead young man is a fish peddler.

BOROUGH ENGINEER RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Harvey F. Brown Quits Borough Job—Surprise Occasioned When Resignation is Presented Wednesday Night to Council

Surprise was occasioned Wednesday night when at the adjourned meeting of council Borough Engineer Harvey F. Brown tendered his resignation. The resignation was accepted to take effect November 15.

No written statement of reasons were made by Mr. Brown though he explained somewhat to some of the members. Apparently there is an understanding of dissatisfaction somewhere that it is considered affects his department, and it is reported this has caused his resignation.

Mr. Brown was seen this morning, but had no further statement to make than what he had made to council in his written resignation. The resignation took council unawares. Mr. Brown has nothing to say concerning his future plans.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE IS RECOVERED IN PITTSBURG

The stolen automobile of John Kittle of Speers was reported to have been recovered by the police of Pittsburgh this morning, and Mr. Kittle went to that city to bring back his car. Details as to the method of recovery of the car are lacking, but it is understood no arrests were made.

UNDERWOOD MAINTAINS HE STILL IS A REPUBLICAN

Thomas J. Underwood, controller, a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the recent primaries, has withdrawn as a candidate for election on the Washington party ticket. His name was written in by several persons on the Washington party ticket and he got the nomination. Controller Underwood expects to support the nominated Republican ticket at the November election.

The inspectors, so far as possible, will keep a check on the re-sale of all mattresses in bulk from hotels or lodging houses.

JUDGE M'ILVAINE WEDS MONON VALLEY COUPLE

Miss Hattie Lang of Allenport and Alfred Bamford of Monessen married at County Seat.

Something very unusual and which is not a custom in matrimonial circles occurred Wednesday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock in the Washington county court house. Alfred Bamford, son of the late Joseph Bamford of Bamford and Hattie Lang of Allenport, were united in marriage at this time by Judge J. A. McIlvaine in his court room, with F. M. Caton court crier, the only attendant.

This is the second time in the career of Judge McIlvaine on the bench of Washington county that he has performed a marriage ceremony.

It came about from an old acquaintanceship between the father of the groom and the judge, who for a number of years were very close friends. The father instilled his admiration for the judge into his children and so the son thought it would be nice if they could be married by him. The farm of the late Joseph Bamford is now occupied by part of the town of Donora.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES EASE UP IN DRILLING

No Game the Coming Saturday, But Next Week Team Will Start in on Hard Schedule.

Charleroi high school football men have been taking it rather easy this week on account of the lack of a game Saturday, but next week will see a return to activity in preparation of the game with the North Union high school here. Last Saturday, September 25, Charleroi high school had one of the hardest games on its schedule, it being with Greensburg high school.

Though bumped and bruised most of the players are in fairly good shape. However, Lynn Lowstuter is out at halfback on account of a torn ligament. There are rumors prevalent that Coach Gdaniec will alter his lineup for the remaining games of the season, strengthening the line by sending forward one of the backs.

The schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows: October 9, North Union High school at Charleroi; October 16, Washington at Charleroi; October 23, Uniontown high school at Charleroi; October 30, California Normal at Charleroi; November 5, Connellsville high school at Charleroi; November 13, Vandergrift at Vandergrift; November 19, Monessen high school at Charleroi; Thanksgiving day, November 25, Donora high school at Charleroi.

ALLEGED LIQUOR SELLERS TAKEN

County Detective Mitchell
Makes Haul at the Bur-gettstown Fair

ONE MAN MAKES GETAWAY

County Detective F. H. Mitchell of Washington, got into quick action at the Burgettstown fair in rounding up alleged illegal booze sellers and other law violators. With all of his alertness, however, he was not quick enough for one man who jumped from a load of booze and took to the woods.

Two men representing the Tri-State Express company were attempting to deliver beer in the open near the cemetery or just handy to the fair grounds. Mitchell confiscated the booze, claiming that it was being delivered illegally and without orders or without being consigned to any person where it was being delivered. George Sheroky was arrested and waived a hearing for court. Representatives of the same express company were arrested one day before this week for operating their wagon.

Detective Mitchell raided another stand on the fair grounds where he believed booze was being sold. He found some whiskey but not enough to warrant arrest. However, in a house belonging to the Erie Coal company he found 20 cases of beer which belonged to the man operating the stand. John Johnson, colored, was taken in charge and said that he had the 20 cases there for three friends that he expected to visit him. On Johnson's person was found a big automatic revolver. He was

SEVENTH STREET REPAIRS SOUGHT

Too Great a Slant From One Side to Another is the Complaint

CURBING RATHER UNEVEN

Rumors that Seventh street paving between Lincoln and Crest avenues may have to be partly torn up and replaced are being heard, and complaints about the condition of this recently graded and paved street are being heard.

Seventh street was included in the comprehensive paving scheme this year, and only recently was finished. It takes a somewhat broken course from Lincoln avenue to Crest avenue, being shaped like an elbow slightly bent. The trouble which exists is in the slant of the street from the south curb to the north curb, the slant being of such percentage as to make hauling up and down the hill even now difficult. That this is true was evidenced by the action of teamsters in presenting to council a request Tuesday night for the improvement with slag of Eighth and Ninth streets leading to the hill districts.

The curbing presents an uneven appearance. On the upper or south side of the street the curb is high above the bricks, on the lower side brick are laid to within a very few inches of the top of the curbing. In freezing weather, with snow on the ground results can be imagined. One complaint rumored is that of water seeping into the cracks of people living nearby.

What action will be taken by council is not known, but the street shows need of some sort of improvement. Attention may also be given to other streets in the town where improvements are needed, including a portion of Meadow avenue which was recently paved.

WILL OF MRS. SMALL IS PROBATED AT COUNTY SEAT

The will of Eliza Small, late of Charleroi, has been probated and letters issued to James Small. Her daughter, Alethia, is given a lot in Charleroi, adjoining the home property, on Fallowfield avenue. She gives to each of her children, Elmer A. Small, Cora Majors, Lydia Owens, Mary Lindsay, Ella McCreery, Stephen Small, Jr., and James Small, $5.

PAYING SCHOOL TAX.

An esteemed contemporary suggests that all the citizens of the town in which it is published are obliged to pay school tax, whether they have children to send to school or not, remarks the Altoona Tribune.

This is an obvious and a perfectly logical truth. The public schools are quite as beneficial to the community as they are to the boys and girls for whose particular benefit they exist.

The normal citizen either has children or grandchildren. If he has none he is either the victim of grievous misfortune or he has neglected his opportunities and turned his back upon his privileges.

The education of the children in a country where all the people are supposed to be equal and where all the men at least have a vote is an imperative necessity if the liberties secured by the founders are to be preserved.

Every patriotic citizen sincerely desires to do his part toward preserving national prosperity and individual freedom and he knows very well that general intelligence is one of the vital necessities in a liberal government.

It is believed that the majority of the citizens of America pay their school tax with gladness for the reason that they feel they are really contributing toward the preservation and maintenance of an educational system that has no equal anywhere.

Unquestionably it is not, since it is a human institution and naturally partakes of the weakness of its founders, but it has wrought a great work in the United States since its establishment here by our wise ancestors and it is getting better with each passing year.

It has a great many critics, too, some of whom are sincere and therefore fair, while others are neither friendly nor fair. Still, it has maintained its onward and upward way and it will continue to do so.

In the meantime it must be supported and the state expects every citizen to do his duty by the way of paying out annually a reasonable sum for the maintenance of the system.

It is a great privilege, this of paying taxes for the support of an institution which is doing far more than any other secular force in the country to make good American citizens out of the children of men and women who come from every land the sun shines on.

And we are quite sure that most of the people of Pennsylvania so regard it even those who have neither children nor grandchildren to send to school.

Sixth street is a good place to stop in the comprehensive paving scheme this year. This will be about as much as it will be possible to do before winter sets in and will afford a needed opportunity for the borough to recover its financial equilibrium by discovering precisely where it stands in paving matters.

October 2 is the last day upon which poll taxes may be paid before election day to make citizens eligible to vote. It is just thirty days before election day, the time limit specified. It is important that this feature of the law be kept in mind.

A man is required to live in an election precinct two months before he is qualified to vote. If during the two months preceding election day he removes from one election district to another he loses his vote, unless he comes to take a chance by voting where he doesn't have a right. This is a feature of the election law that is hardly just, for many a good citizen is thus compelled to forego his rights as a citizen though not from any fault of his own. Some sort of provision should be made to cover up this legal deficiency.

The "swat the fly" campaign seems to have lapsed like a reform movement. Yet there is no time of the year when any greater persistency should be shown in the swatting business than just now. Colder weather outdoors drives the flies indoors if they can get in with results that they plant their germ laden feet in to perfectly good food to feast thereon, and depart leaving behind that which may produce disease and death.

"Individual application" of the sermon may be a good thing, but—well, consider the situation suggested in the following anecdote:
In a town in the west there is a church that has a bright young pastor, but the attendance is unfortunately small. Among the parishioners there is an agreeable young widow. One evening, as she was leaving the edifice, she was addressed by a deacon.

"How did you like the sermon?"
"I think it was perfectly lovely," was the enthusiastic reply. "But there was so few of us, that every time the parson said 'dearly beloved,' I positively blushed."

He went to dine with a bachelor friend who prided himself that his few pictures were gems. After having enjoyed themselves well—too well, in fact, at dinner, they adjourned to the picture-gallery, where the host pointed out to his guest a landscape, saying:

"What do you think of that, my boy, eh?" The following reply was hicoughed rather than spoken:
"Beautiful, oud chap—very fine—awfully good! Trees wave 'bout so na'shally!" —Exchange.

The Beaufort

(By the House of Kuppenheimer)

OF a distinguished group of Kuppenheimer Models this season, one of the most engaging is the BEAUFORT—a young men's style with the shapely lines of the current mode.

The coat has three buttons, but it is worn open to the third, which fastens in the usual way or with a link button—while the waistcoat has the new fold military collar.

Young men are growing more critical as to the source of their fashions. They have more regard every day for correct style and show a decided tendency to rely on the broad guarantee of the Kuppenheimer Label.

The House of Kuppenheimer supplies young men's styles to the best metropolitan trade. The values are as right as the clothes.

HOW TO BE STRONG AND FAT

The trouble with most thin people who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern science is called Tonoline and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Tonoline aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Tonoline is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Tonoline costs only $1.00 for a 15 days' treatment.

The child started across the street at the corner of Tyler avenue, and in doing so ran in front of the delivery wagon of Paul B. Ebers' grocery store.

The driver of the wagon slowed his car so the little girl might cross in safety but Wallace, whose car was coming up Jefferson back of the Paul Brothers' truck could not see the child and did not know why the delivery truck had slowed down, so pulled around to one side in order to pass the truck.

The little girl had then crossed in front of the truck and was running directly in front of the Wallace car before the driver had time to stop his machine which was moving slowly at the time. She was struck and knocked to one side of the car. She died soon after her removal to a doctor's office.
